Access To Medical Reports Act 1988

To enable us to consider your claim further we require a medical report from the Doctor you are consulting for this condition. To do this we require your consent, which you can indicate in the space below. Before doing so you should read the following statement that details your rights under the Access To Medical Reports Act 1988. You do not have to provide your consent to us being provided with a report but if you do you have the right to tell their doctor that you wish to see the report before it is sent to us. In this case the doctor cannot send it to us unless they have shown it to you or 21 days have passed without you having contacted your doctor about arranging to see the report.

Even if you do not initially ask to see the report before it is sent to us, the doctor must let you see a copy of the report for up to six months after it has been supplied to us, if you ask to see it.

Once you have reviewed the medical report, your doctor cannot submit it to us until they have your consent to do so. You can write to your doctor asking them to amend any part of the medical report if you consider it to be incorrect. Where you and your doctor are not in agreement with the content and the doctor is not willing to change their report you can attach a statement of your views that can be submitted with report.

In the event that the doctor believes that viewing some of the report would be detrimental to your physical or mental state. In this circumstance the doctor will notify you that you are viewing an edited version of the medical report. If the whole report is being withheld the doctor cannot send the report to us unless you give your express consent
